

TOMORROW IS THE DEADLINE

Two things of importance to all CO-OP members take place next Tuesday, March 13 at the Andover Country Club.

Most important, of course, is the annual business meeting scheduled to start at 8:15. This includes reports from the officers for 1961, election of officers and directors, and the discussion of two new and important business matters.

As a pleasant prelude to business, there will be a full-course dinner at 7. Of course, members may attend the business session without coming for the dinner. But it is a delightful tradition for hundreds of CO-OP shareholders to break bread together before the meeting. It's fun for our shoppers to spend a social hour together - in their "Sunday best."

There's only one hitch about the dinner. We have to make a prior guarantee to the caterers, so dinner is by advance ticket purchase only. The deadline for dinner tickets is tomorrow at 9 p.m., at the store. The price is $9.99.

Remember the dates: tickets tomorrow, dinner Tuesday at 7, business meeting at 8:15.

And don't forget Town Meeting Saturday at 9:30.

Lenten Series At South Church

REV. HORACE SELDON

"The Young Church in Action" is the theme for the South Church Lenten Series, which begins next Sunday at 9:15 a.m.

This special series of lectures and discussions will be held each Sunday in Lent in Fellowship Hall and will seek to interpret the New Testament through different personalities of the early Christian church. The theme for the series is drawn from the book by J.B. Phillips. All who are interested are cordially invited to attend and are reminded that child care will be provided while the meetings are in session.

At the first meeting March 11, the Rev. Horace Seldon will speak on the topic, "The New Testament of a Person". Mr. Seldon is well-known to many Andover people as former pastor of the Free Christian Church. He is presently serving as Minister of Youth for the Massachusetts Congregational Conference.

Other speakers and their topics are: March 18, Dr. Allan Gillingham "The Early Christian of the First Century"; March 25, Kent Donovan, "Paul"; April 1, the Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, "John Mark"; April 8, Richard S. Pieters, "Peter"; and April 15, the Rev. Frederic A. Pease, "John of Patmos".

More Houses Are Proposed

Preliminary plans for 88 homes in a sub-division including much of Thompson's egg farm, near the North Reading line on Gould rd., has been presented to the Planning Board by Roy R. Farr.

The cluster zoning proposal would have 88 houses on a total of 98 acres, with approximately 30 acres in the green areas.

About five acres remain on Gould rd., according to the plan, including the Thompson home.

One of the factors that must be considered when the plans are studied, it is understood, is the availability of water for the sub-division.

The town now furnishes water to North Reading, using the main in Gould rd. At times of greatest Andover usage, North Reading can not draw 160 gallons per minute through the line, without decreasing the amount of water available for residents of Rocky Hill rd. Although this is some distance from the sub-division, it is noted that the pressure falls off enough to make the water unavailable on the higher elevation.

According to the water department, the valves are closed whenever such conditions occur. But about Great Hymns

Come Be Disconsolate

*Come, ye disconsolate, where'er ye languish,
Come to the mercy seat, fervently kneel;
Here bring your wounded hearts, here tell your anguish,
Earth has no sorrow that heaven cannot heal.*

Thomas Moore, the noted Irish poet, wrote this hymn. He was a musician, as well, and often sang his own songs to the delight of the great and noble where he was a welcomed and favorite guest. Death took one of his beloved daughters. Before he recovered from this shock, his sensitive and tender spirit was crushed by the loss of another daughter. He expressed his deep sorrow in this hymn.

It is also explained that the sub-division would draw more than the 160 gallons per minute, thus possibly having the same general effect on residents of Rocky Hill rd.

However, according to statute, it is understood that the lack of, or the partial lack of, water is not a reason that can be used by planning boards to deny approval.

Timely Response By Blood Donors

To collect blood for the open heart surgery of a veteran of foreign wars at the Veterans Hospital in West Roxbury, a Red Cross bloodmobile visited Andover Monday. Of the 14 people who gave blood, none was rejected for temporary illness and all were on time, establishing a record of perfection. Donors were Ruth Lauder, Clara Bredbury, Temple Edmonds, Dorothy Palmer, Harold Coleman, Constance Suter, Inez Jenkins, Priscilla Thompson, Richard Moody, the Rev. Howard A. Andrew, Alvin Towne, Richard Mower, Robert Mower and H. Lester Hilton.

Experienced volunteers, including nurses, staff aides, canteen members and motor corps drivers, were Betty Whitcomb, Jane Elliot, Barbara Cannon, Betty Goddard, Gertrude Colpitts, Ann Lux, Rita Paulekas, Ruth Thompson, Emily Leadbitter, Grace Weaver, Louise Penick, Persis Crawford, Doris Bancroft, and Pauline Field. David Cutler, director of the northeastern blood program district, presided last week at a meeting of members of the county Red Cross societies in the Free Church. Problems of blood collecting were discussed with Dr. Robert Baker of the Boston Blood Center. Edward Murphy, Louise Penick, Persis Crawford, Pauline Field, Irene Libbey and Ann Lux represented the Andover chapter.

Girl Scouts

The girls scouts of Troop 90 have been enjoying many activities. Recently they had a cook-out at the home of their leader, Mrs. Holmes. The girls made the stoves for the cookout by stretching chicken wire over the open top of a large can. Coals were placed in the bottom of the can and the hot dogs were cooked with ease. They also enjoyed a nature hunt. Films of Girls Scouts in other countries were shown. The scouts made lanterns by punching holes in cans with nails. The cans were spray painted and a candle placed inside. They were most pleased with the results.

Troop 112

The Girl Scouts of Troop 112 are planning a Court of Awards. This will be held March 13. A new girl, Diane Cannon, was welcomed into the Troop. The girls are continuing on their good grooming badge, and some of the girls will start on the Minstrel Badge under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Roehrig.

Troop 68

Each Brownie of Troop 68 planted Golden Brownie Seeds in her own little flower pot to take home and care for. They worked on their bedmaking and some of the girls finished their Girl Scout Law scrap books. Mrs. Birdsall and Mrs. Beaulieu assisted with the meeting.

During the school vacation, members of Brownie Troop 68 were guests of Girl Scout Troop 18 at the Free Church. The girl scouts taught the brownies knots, flag etiquette, and fire building. After nose bag lunches, the girls played games, and saw the play "Cinderella" put on by the girl scouts. The girl scouts wrote their own script, furnished their costumes and props, and the brownies thoroughly enjoyed the play.

The University of Massachusetts recently announced the names of candidates for Departmental Honors in 1962.

Students with outstanding scholastic records are allowed to follow an independent course of study on a theme of significance within their major field. The flag was donated by a member of St. Augustine's parish. The flag blessing ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Alfred Murphy O.S.A., chaplain of Troop 75.

NEXT GAME FRIDAY - Andover High's Blue Devil basketball team whipped a favored Matignon High, 67-60, last Saturday night in Cambridge, to move up another step in the Class B, semi-finals of the Bay State Basketball Tournament. They meet an unnamed opponent tomorrow night. Coach Wil Hixon called the game the season's best. Team members are: front, George Chetson, Frank McBride, Bob Young, Ray Collins and Dick Busby; second row, Roger Jackson, Rufus Brown, Dick Ziegler, Jim O'Reilly and Bruce Elmer; third row, James Birman, manager; Tom Coffman, Barry Connors and Jim Early.

The problem surrounds the developers.

At the core of the problem is the developer's inability to obtain an easement, running along the same course as a town easement, on private land across Argilla rd. from his sub-division. Long months ago, the Selectmen advised Harry Axelrod, an official of the firm, to obtain the easement if this could be arranged. But they also noted that if this became impossible, then the Board would try to find some other solution to the problem.

A legal ruling by town counsel that drainage water from the development can not be piped into the town easement, because it was obtained years ago to drain only the volume of water then running along Argilla rd., was thoroughly explored Tuesday night. In essence, it appears that neither the total volume of water, nor the swiftness of its run-off, can be changed, in relation to the easement.

Yet, according to the developer, the Planning Board-approved plan, on file in the Registry of Deeds, requires him only to tie into the pipe leading into this easement. The size of that pipe, according to the Planning Board is recommended to them as sufficient to handle the drainage from the sub-division.

Town Engineer Thomas X. Flynn told the gathering that the amount of water in total volume, and the speed of its run-off, would both be greater now than formerly, because of new streets, paved areas and other factors involved in changing a farm to a small community of homes.

The Planning Board, through Chairman Harold King, said it wants to retain only a small portion of the $5,000 bond it now holds. The retention of some of the bond would involve a few "small problems" with the fire alarm system in the development, he stated. The Board is satisfied that the drainage requirements in the development have been met, and that street bounds are in place, he said.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff pointed out a troublesome area within the development, which he said is a drainage problem.

Both Mr. Axelrod and Mr. King explained that this area is often under water because snow is plowed into a big dam, but that this will be corrected as soon as the extension of the sub-division is approved. At that time, two temporary drains will be installed permanently, and the street changed.

One of the many complexities developed here: The problem can't be solved until the next portion of the development is approved; the town manager wants to keep the $5,000 bond to cover this particular problem, which he believes is involved in the present section of the development.

In one interchange during the meeting, Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien said there appears to be no solution to the major drainage problem on Argilla rd. - and he suggested that developers who buy land that can't be drained do so at their own discretion and it is their own problem.

Mr. Axelrod noted that the Planning Board approved his plan to tie into the town pipe, and that he thus was cleared of obligation for off-site expenses.

There was no solution, nor an indication of one.

Precinct four was first to report, as has been the case for several elections, and the results gave the incumbents an early lead.

However, Mr. Davey's total began to approach, then overtake Mrs. Buchanan's. When precinct six reported, in fifth position according to the hour, it returned the lead to Mrs. Buchanan. However, precinct two provided the climax, giving Davey 413 votes to her 259. And that gave Mr. Davey the margin of seven he now holds.

Courteous Circle

Courteous Circle of the King's Daughters will hold its first meeting of the season, after the two months' interim, Monday evening, March 12, in Fellowship Hall at South Church.

The supper will be served at 6 o'clock under the direction of the Birthday-Remembrance committee, and the business meeting and program will follow. Mrs. Ernest Edmonds has charge of the devotions and Mrs. Robert Hutton will speak on hand-made jewelry.

During the business meeting several gifts will be dedicated, in memory of Mrs. Ralph Hadley, who passed away last year. WASHINGTON PARK for Andover

DEN - TYPE APARTMENTS FOR NORTH MAIN STREET

THIS IS WHAT YOU, AS A CITIZEN OF ANDOVER, SHOULD KNOW ABOUT WASHINGTON PARK

WASHINGTON PARK is to transform vacant and at present unsightly land on North Main Street into an exceptionally attractive area of thirteen Colonial-type buildings built around a horseshoe-shaped roadway. As shown in the conception above, ample areas will be provided residents for driving and recreation in beautifully landscaped surroundings. Parking is provided for all residents.

APARTMENT HOUSES are similar to industrial property in tax return, but, as one can see, the similarity ends there. Washington Park will add considerable to the valuation base of the Town. The complete development will add over $1,000,000 in taxable property to the Town of Andover.

THE DESIGN, as illustrated, features a total of thirteen buildings with twelve suites in each building. The apartments will consist of Efficiency units; one, two and three bedroom apartments and Luxury apartments. The location of these units in the houses can be determined from the legend at the left. Rentals will range from $115.00 per month for the Efficiency apartments to $250.00 per month for the Luxury-type units.

APPROXIMATELY THREE acres, almost surrounded by the Shawsheen River, have been utilized for a recreation area for residents of the apartments. Extensive planning has gone into landscaping.

WASHINGTON PARK has been carefully designed in all aspects — its Colonial buildings . . . its landscaping . . . its recreational areas . . . to blend perfectly into and enhance the Colonial flavor of the countryside and of Andover. It will prove a benefit to Andover and its Townspeople.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Anyone's Guess

Just what is the cost of trash collection?

The Taxpayers Association estimates it will cost $37,000 - in conjunction with garbage collection, estimated at $25,000 alone.

Thus the combined cost is $62,000, according to the Association's report.

The Association estimates the cost to equal 69 cents on the tax rate for the package; while garbage collection alone would cost 28 cents on the rate.

Before we buy this package, it would be necessary to know the specific figures, where they come from, and whether the firm estimates would remain good for very long.

In a neighboring town, for example, trash collections are separate from garbage - and cost three times as much as does garbage collection. Both are done by municipal crews, with town-owned equipment. Will this figure hold up in Andover too? No one knows, exactly, and it will be important to know exactly, before voting for the combined collection.

In Methuen, for example, two garbage trucks take care of weekly - or almost weekly - collection. Involved are 7,600 units, and additional restaurants, the schools, etc.

That town has five trash trucks, and collects every two or three weeks in outlying areas, weekly in some congested sections and at schools, restaurants and some other places. In the winter, the schedule gets behind, of course, as it does occasionally in the summer when the crews are short-handed because of vacations.

We continue to believe that garbage collection here is sensible, because there is a public health problem caused by people dumping garbage at the dump and burning it in back yards.

Andover, like Methuen and other communities, can no doubt dispose of its collected garbage out of town; Methuen sells its garbage to a piggery operator, who takes it out of the town's borders.

We are not convinced that trash collection is absolutely necessary; nor are we certain that the estimated costs of the trash pick-up are anything more than guesstimates.

It seems sensible to defeat the amendment, as proposed by the Taxpayers Association, for combined collection. Backing up this opinion is the report of the special study committee, which felt that trash collection, while desirable, should not be proposed this year because of, among other things, excessive costs.

It might also be noted here that if the proposal is approved, it probably can't begin until June 1 - when bids would have been advertised, contracts awarded, etc.

Thus, possibly, the additional funds requested for the trash portion of the collection are for six months only, not a full year of collections at all.

We Recommend

The proposed garden apartments, for which re-zoning is sought at town meeting Saturday, appear to be a sensible, profitable proposition.

The Planning Board approves the article. In our judgment, as well as theirs, the proposed use of the Golden Farm on North Main st. is a logical one.

The land is now nearly non-productive tax-wise; the apartments appear to be attractive, from the drawings presented by the developers, and should continue to be of considerable assistance in broadening our tax base.

This is the kind of progress Andover needs. The economic, well-being of the whole, via the additional taxes, is far more important than the inconveniences that might be caused to a few.

We recommend adoption of the zoning article to re-zone the area.

They're At It Again

Two legislative bills warrant the attention of all residents of the community who have an interest in housing developments.

They concern the length of time given to the town to provide water service to a sub-division.

Under the proposals, as heard recently before the Mercantile Affairs Committee, the town would have 60 days to provide some initial planning service, and might well have to install major water lines within an appropriation year. If the work was unanticipated at town meeting time, and no funds were appropriated, the town might have to install the mains anyway, under wording of the bills.

The bills do not change the statute requirement, which states that the town can not turn down a development on the grounds that there is not enough water. The problem comes in the length of time given to the town to comply.

The Planning Board office has further details of the proposals, and interested citizens should make it their business to inquire.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - March, 1912

Charles Bowman defeated Samuel H. Bailey and Felix G. Hayes for Selectman and Assessor Monday; some 1,067 persons voted. Other results found Frank M. Smith elected highway surveyor; Henry A. Bodwell, Bartlett H. Hayes and Charles G. Willard, School Committee. On the same day, town meeting authorized annual appropriations of $186,072.57.

Archibald Freeman of Phillips Academy will speak before the November Club next Monday afternoon on the subject: "Samuel Seabury, Loyalist".

Miss Alice S. Coutts has been teaching in Indian Ridge School during the absence of Miss Elizabeth Coburn, who is detained at her home in Newark, N.J., by family illness.

At town meeting Monday, voters agreed to make the town barn and barnyard a dog pound as well.

Announcement was made this week at Marland Mills that the working schedule for all employees will be 54 hours per week, in accordance with the new law.

An appropriation of $7,000 was approved at town meeting for Andover's first fire truck, despite claims that "the truck is pretty to look at but it is a great mistake to appropriate $7,000 at this time". It was also stressed by opponents that the equipment is a luxury for a town like Andover and that the town isn't ready for it yet.

25 Years Ago - March, 1937

A total of 3,325 voters went to the polls and returned all office holders except one, Dr. Nathaniel Stowers running for re-election to the School Committee. John M. Erving won that contest. G. Richard Abbot was elected tree warden, the only office for which there was no incumbent seeking re-election.

Town meeting will be held Monday night, and two firsts will be noted. The meeting will be held for the first time in the evening, and it will be the first town meeting in the new auditorium. The most controversial articles appear to be those concerned with the boilers at the pumping station, the West Center playground area and purchase of an ambulance.

A letter from a reader makes note of the normal procedure of having an opening prayer, before deliberative bodies begin work. This happens in Congress, in most state legislatures and at most town meetings, the letter says, but does not happen here. The writer suggests that Andover resume this custom, dropped a few years ago.

The long session will make it difficult for students who need to make use of the library on the week-end, and so the library will remain open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., as usual, manned with fewer staff members, who will handle as much of the normal work as possible. No books have been stamped to become due on that date.

Gives Reason For Request

The School Committee issued its reasons for a request to approve an application for drainage and site plan at the High School, recreational areas.

The special article in the report calls for appropriation of $22,000, to be added to $22,000 last year but not spent.

The Finance Committee recommended $18,000 this year for the same purpose. Members of the School Board have been discussing the subject. The Finance Committee has recommended that the amount can be approved.

The School Committee's report to the voters, Playstead - now the main recreational and athletic area - is too busy. Under the current plan, public works departmental conflicts develop. Junior high and elementary pupils are often deprived of use, the report continues. Reference to the needs of school students.

Expenses for custodial transportation of people are increased over the cost of the site at the High School. Safety factors are also considered. The Committee notes serious accidents have occurred at the Playstead, despite the fact that the area is on the possibility of serious accidents.

The proposed area at the school will also be available to the townspeople, and joint planning is being carried out with the town manager, Finance Committee.

The report indicates that the town would have the following result: Topographical survey and layout - $2,500, construction, clearing and grubbing - $65,000 - contemplated this year. Construction of multi-area, young children's play track and football field, including bleachers or track surface, $35,000.

Surface track, top soil, and finish grading of entire baseball field, girls' hockey practice fields, $65,000 - step is done in two years. Cost would be $70,000, it is estimated.

Water lines and supply, $40,000. Equipment, fences, bleachers, playground equipment, $40,000. The total cost of the project is $200,000.

The Committee also has noted the report from Edward I. Erickson that the addition is constructed at the school itself, the state would in the cost of the athletic area yet to be approved. But the state would not in any expense already under the town, prior to the construction of the addition to the school.

The Andover Jaycees will present the Merrimack Valley Harmonic Orchestra in its public concert March 21, at Andover High School. The 8 p.m. concert is the first of a series planned by the orchestra this year. Included among the many Andover residents.

Tickets for the concert are sold by the Society and the Jaycees. Jerry Silverman is contacted for information, a Joel Labell.

Gives Reasons For Request

The School Committee has issued its reasons for asking the voters to approve an appropriation for drainage and site preparation at the High School, for recreational areas.

The special article in the Warrent calls for appropriating $28,000, to be added to $22,000 voted last year but not spent.

The Finance Committee has recommended $18,000 this year - but members of the School Board have been discussing the subject with the FinCom in hopes that the full amount can be approved.

The School Committee noted, in its report to the voters, that the Playstead - now the main recreational and athletic area - is far too busy. Under the control of the public works department, occasional conflicts develop over its use. Junior high and elementary pupils are often deprived of its use, the report continues, in deference to the needs of the high school students.

Expenses for custodial care, transportation of people and equipment and other required activities are increased over the cost if the site at the High School area is approved, the report stated.

Safety factors are also a concern - the Committee notes that no serious accidents have occurred at the Playstead, despite the additional hazards created by so many uses of the area at once. But the possibility of serious accident is greater there, the members agree.

The proposed area at the High School will also be available to townspeople, and joint planning for its use is being carried out by the town manager, FinCom and Recreation Committee.

The report indicates that a timetable of improvements at the High School would have the following result:

Topographical survey and architect's layout - $2,500, completed. Sub-grading, drainage of 20 acres, clearing and grubbing, $50,000 - contemplated this year.

Construction of multi-purpose area, young children's play area, track and football field, but not including bleachers or finished track surface, $35,000.

Surface track, top soil, seeding and finish grading of entire area, baseball field, girls' hockey field, practice fields, $65,000 - if this is done in two years, the cost would be $70,000, it is noted. Water lines and supply, $10,000. Equipment, fences, bleachers, playground equipment, $40,000.

The total cost of the project is $200,000.

The Committee also has taken note of the report from Supt. Edward I. Erickson that, if an addition is constructed at the High School itself, the state would share the cost of the athletic and recreation area yet to be appropriated. But the state would not share any expense already undertaken by the town, prior to the construction of the addition to the buildings.

Building or Buying A New Home . . . ?

Here is a golden opportunity to pick up some helpful information on designing the interior.

The Lawrence Y.W.C.A. has asked us again to give a course on interior decorating at the "Y" in Lawrence. Classes are scheduled for four consecutive Wednesday mornings from 9:30 to 10:30, beginning March 14. The course will be given by our Francis J. Niziak, Jr., who has designed interiors for many of Andover's finest homes.

This course is not designed to make you a professional, but it will teach the way to plan your home and the pitfalls that so many encounter before moving into a new home or apartment.

New brides or prospective brides will find that some of the information given at these lectures will also save hundreds of dollars when the purchase of furniture, drapes and floor coverings is made.

Don't miss this opportunity. . . see you at the Lawrence Y.W.C.A.

THEY WON EVERY game, in that football season of 1911 - "Pop" Lovely's first Punchard High team, on which Postmaster Stephen A. Boland served as captain. Coincidentally, Eugene "Pop" Lovely has just been nominated for football "Hall of Fame" election, and "Captain" Boland has just announced his retirement as postmaster, after spending 46 years in the postal service in Andover. Team members that year were, rear row, the late Rev. Frank Boland, Dick Stack, J. Everett Collins and Steve Boland; kneeling, Palmer Wilcox, William Haigh, Harold Cates, Frank Bingham, Howard Cates, Arthur Gray and Frank Petty. They won all eight of their games, including one against Lawrence, in that 1911 season. BOLAND WILL RETIRE MARCH 15

In 1915, he was appointed substitute carrier in the postoffice, then located in the back of the Musgrove building, where the thrift shop has been established. Postmaster John H. McDonald held the position then - only later to be replaced by a political appointee when the national administration changed. Mr. McDonald came back to the post later, during the Roosevelt administration, and served until Mr. Boland took over in 1945.

Not too long after Boland began his postal career, World War I began and he served in the 311th Supply Co. in France, ferrying supplies and equipment of all kinds across that country.

He returned to the postal duty after discharge, serving for six months as a carrier, then accepting appointment as a clerk.

"It wasn't as easy carrying then, as now", he commented with a grin, "the roads weren't plowed much and you just had to wade through the snow". Deliveries were on a twice-a-day schedule, contrasting to the present once-daily activity.

At that time, first class mail was two cents, and the post office remained open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., with the men working in shifts, on a 48-hour weekly basis. The hours later came down to 44, then 40.

But in the old days, the postmaster didn't put in the same hours his men did. The jobs were political, Boland recalls, and usually the postmaster had some other employment or ran a business.

In the early '40s, Civil Service took over, and the postmaster had to spend his full time on postal duties.

There was a long list of applicants when Mr. Boland applied for the postmaster's job, and all were investigated and queried about their qualifications by examiners of the Civil Service department.

Although his full service as postmaster has been in the present building on Main st., Mr. Boland actually served in three locations - on Post Office ave., then on Essex st., and finally on Main st., after the present structure was built in 1934.

In the postoffice in 1915, eight carriers and seven clerks managed all the work; now the local service employs 20 carriers and 20 clerks.

Dollar volume has risen sharply over the years, and the office has moved up from second to first class.

But what of the future, after looking back at the past?

"Oh, we'll travel some, and I like to farm", Mr. Boland commented, "and I have some interests in Maine to look after too".

Course In Reading At Junior High

The Division of University Extension of the State Department of Education has arranged a course in Efficient Reading, to be held at the Andover Junior High School Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9. War veterans and senior citizens may enroll without charge. The first session was held Feb. 28, and nine others are scheduled.

This course presents procedures and practices essential for improvement in comprehension and speed. Through testing, diagnosing and correct placement, the reader increases his ability to efficiently meet the demands of today's reading materials.

be used for parking trucks, in cases where this is subject to Board of Appeals permit. "It is a risky provision to leave to the judgment of three individuals the application of a restriction which should be clearly spelled out in law", the Association's comment reads.

It is also anticipated that garden apartment zoning on the Golden Farm on North Main st. will be debated thoroughly prior to action by the voters.

Taxpayers Association

The Taxpayers Association has, in a report to the people, suggested several areas in which it disagrees with the Finance Committee.

Instead of paying Selectmen $400, with an added $100 for the chairman, the Association suggests $100 and $150.

The Association opposes the parking amendment, and amendment for municipal use of land in various zones.

It also feels the town should not spend money for a study of needs at the Library, but wait until the time is nearer for work on that structure.

This is the general feeling, as well, about plans for a town hall and fire station, as proposed, and approved by the FinCom.

The Association also suggests waiting for some other possible solution to Rogers Brook - believing that urban renewal may have something to offer in that direction.

And although the Association goes along with the big "dozer" for the dump, the notation is made that premature action last year, in buying a smaller piece of equipment, resulted in wasted funds.

Other Meeting Debates

The subject of garbage and trash collection will necessarily occupy considerable time and attention at town meeting.

An article, approved by the FinCom, calls for spending up to $25,000 for garbage collection. The Taxpayers Association, to offer an alternate plan, suggest amending this to $62,000 and picking up trash as well. The sanitary land fill method of dump operation would be required under the latter procedure.

The amendment may run into trouble, however, because the Selectmen hope town meeting will follow the age-old custom of never amending an article upwards, as far as financial value is concerned.

Although there apparently is no legal road block, it is felt by the Board that custom should be followed, rather than set a precedent for raising the value of articles.

don't know of a friend who hasn't lost an expensive ring, watch, or other jewelry, or had it stolen or damaged. Nothing seems so vulnerable as jewelry. Is it true that a $39.10 premium will cover $1000 in jewelry for three years against loss, theft, or damage?"

Channel 2 Tells Of Dollar Offer

The Ford Foundation challenges New England to turn $500,000 into a million dollars for WGBH, Channel 2.

WGBH, Boston's outstanding educational television and radio station, has already raised over $700,000 for a new building to replace the rented studios on Massachusetts Avenue that were destroyed by fire last October.

The Ford Foundation has now offered to match, dollar for dollar, anything beyond that figure up to half a million. About $28,000 is already eligible for matching.

If the community meets the Ford offer, WGBH will have completed its building fund drive. The deadline for making a New England dollar do double duty for education is Dec. 31, 1962.

Ralph Lowell, President of WGBH, said, "I want to emphasize how deeply we appreciate the gifts we have received to date. Without them, it is clear, the Ford Foundation would have been less willing to help. I am certain that there are many thousands of people and organizations from whom we have not yet heard, and who will now come forward to help us earn the matching money."

If the Ford money is successfully matched, WGBH will have raised about $1,700,000, some 13 percent more than the $1,500,000 announced as a goal the day of the fire. Hartford N. Gunn Jr., general manager, said, "All things considered, our first quick estimate made the day of the fire has held up remarkably well."

"WGBH has had to lift its fundraising sights because the costs of construction and new equipment will be somewhat higher than expected. WGBH requires far more space than the average television station because it must produce so much of its own programming, and it is also the major source of programs for 60 educational television stations across the country," he said.

STREET LISTS READY IN MAY

Town Clerk Irving O. Piper anticipates having the 1962 street lists in May.

A decision has been made to charge 30 cents a copy, except for municipal offices, according to the town clerk. Some 550 business and professional people received free copies last year, as did about 650 citizens. The income from sale of the lists will just about cover printing costs, Mr. Piper explained.

Cooking Party Plans Underway

The Andover Consumers' Cooperative and the Lawrence Gas Co. will jointly sponsor a Cooking Party the evening of Tuesday, March 27, in Central Elementary School auditorium.

The party is for the entertainment of housewives and their husbands, whether their interest is cooking, shopping or eating.

Mrs. Jeanne Ambuter, who will coordinate the various activities of the Party, explained that many gourmet dishes will be prepared in the attractive stage setting of an all-gas kitchen.

Each of the dishes will be awarded as door prizes.

Mrs. Jean Armstrong, home service director for the Lawrence Gas Co., will demonstrate the modern gas ranges and refrigerators. With her on stage will be the major prize of the evening, a caloric gas range, the 30-inch model with control top burner.

A brief intermission will follow the cooking demonstration, during which the United Farmers Dairy will serve refreshments.

The second section of the program will feature the meat department of the Co-Op. Bill Roeger of the department will wield the knife while Jeanne Ambuter lectures on the details of selecting, preparing and serving quality meats.

Many prizes will be awarded at the end of the Party. Admission is by ticket only, and these may be obtained at the Co-Op on Main st.

School Board Seeks Land

The Land Acquisition Committee has been directed by the School Committee to secure another 44 acres of land, between South Main st. and the By-Pass, for an elementary school.

The town now owns 11 acres of prime land in the section, abutting the DeVries cluster zoning development off Wildwood rd. The White and D'Anallo properties are now desired by the Committee - with about 33 in the former and 10 in the latter plot.

Both Harold F. Rafton, chairman of the Land Acquisition Committee, and School Committee member William A. Doherty, recommended acquisition of the two parcels, instead of trying to obtain one or the other, and possibly selling the town-owned parcel.

Portions of the White land - maybe six or seven acres - was reported to be swampy, with other areas more suitable for construction.

If the areas are obtained, access to the property could be gained from the DeVries development, from South Main st. and via a paper street now on the plans for the D'Anallo development.

The latter section may have to go through Land Court, it was noted, because it has been laid out for house lots and approved by the Planning Board.

Committee members expressed reluctance at securing over 50 acres, when a minimum of 12 acres are generally needed for a school, and 18 acres are considered ample. But it was felt that the proper access could not be gained without the parcels, and that certainly no owner would sell the best of his land while retaining the worst.

Panel Discussion By Young People

Sunday evening, March 4, the Senior High Pilgrim Fellowship of the West Parish Church met for a panel discussion with two foreign students from Phillips Academy.

The panel members were Alberto Pico of Puerto Rico, Yagubo Jallow of Gambia, Africa, and Carol Sargent, Jack Gorrie, and Jim O'Reilly of Andover. Warren

CAPITOL COMMENT

By YOUR CONGRESSMAN
BRAD MORSE

Every new baby in the United States is $1600 in debt the minute he is born. That's his current share of the national debt.

By a substantial majority, the House last week voted to up the total debt by $2 billion, increasing the statutory limit to $300 billion. Annual interest now runs $9 billion yearly, making it a budget item second only to our national defense spending. No services are performed for this $9 billion - no highways built, no schools constructed, no missiles launched, no hospitals erected, no public benefits realized. Eleven cents of every tax dollar sent to Washington goes to interest payments.

When the new Federal budget was presented last month, Congress was assured it was in balance. Members of the President's own party were the first to point out that it was not; that as things now stand, it probably will run a $5 to $7 billion deficit. Defense expenditures were increased this year, in part triggered due to the Berlin crisis. But increases in requests for non-defense spending and new obligations to spend far exceed defense increases. This explains, why, in addition to the $2 billion we reluctantly voted last week, we will be handed another request in a few months to raise the debt ceiling by another $8 billion.

We cannot continue to spend beyond our income and our needs. Your children and mine will suffer the consequences of this general tion's improvidence. Why then, did the Congress vote for the $2 billion increase?

Under existing circumstances, it was a vote for economy. Had we not raised the ceiling, the Secretary of the Treasury would have had to turn to the Commodity Credit Corporation to float bonds to pay Uncle Sam's existing bills and statutory obligations. CCC bonds are sold at a higher interest rate than normal government bonds. We would have lost even more money on these interest payments. Like it or not, the Administration, supported by majority votes in Congress, fixed this rate of government spending. I did not vote for most of this spending - on the contrary, had a majority of my colleagues voted as I did last year, hundreds of millions of dollars would have been saved.

My mail tells me that people are not fooled by arguments that deficit spending is good for the country. It is up to Congress to draw the line as the inflated money requests for needless, wasteful programs and projects come up before us in this election year. When the request to lift the debt ceiling another $8 billion comes before us later this session, I trust that Congress will, with justice and frugality, be able to say: "No." I trust that serious consideration will be given to ways and means of reducing the debt itself.

I think those debt-laden new babies deserve that much of a break.

Dr. Currier Is Orchestra Member

Sunday afternoon, March 11, at 3:30 p.m. Leo Litwin will play at the Reading Symphony Orchestra concert in the Reading Memorial High School auditorium.

Official pianist for the Boston Symphony Pops orchestra, Mr. Litwin is nationally known for the excellence of his ability. For years, audiences have thrilled to his music, and critics and laymen alike have shared their enthusiasm for his interpretations and his fine musicianship. The Reading Symphony Orchestra is under the competent direction of Weston L. Brannem.

Dr. Charles A. Currier of Hiden rd. is a member of the orchestra.

Surprise Party On Birthday

A surprise birthday party and dance was held in the Ballardvale Community Room for Miss Barbara Quesenberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Quesenberry of Andover st., Ballardvale, recently. Barbara was presented with a birthday cake; she received many gifts from her friends. Dancing was enjoyed and refreshments served.

Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. George Quesenberry and Mrs. Alfred Smeltzer.

Social Auction Tonight In Vale

The Ballard Vale United Church Guild will hold a social auction in the Community Room tonight at 8 o'clock.

The price of admission is an article that the auctioneers can auction off. It should be something new.

The auctioneers will be Mrs. Robert Mitchell, Mrs. Ralph Sharpe and Mrs. Henry Meyers. There will be refreshments served.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman: "To see if the town will vote to rescind the vote passed under article 48 of the warrant of the adjourned town meeting of March 12, 1960, appropriating $195,000 for storm drainage purposes, etc." So reads article 23 of the warrant of our coming town meeting. It refers, of course, to the much-discussed Rogers Brook flood control project whose ultimate cost had, by the end of last summer, soared to an estimated $653,000, and by the end of the year to a cool million dollars.

"Now if ever an Andover proposition was burning down the barn to roast the pig then surely it was this Rogers Brook project. And now at last we are given a chance to get out of the mess, once and for all.

"Let us hope that the voters will not be taken in by the previous article 22 which proposes to confirm the original appropriation and do a job on the Brook from the Shawsheen River to Main st. This is the least important part of the whole scheme and the most expensive, as the pipe would have to be larger at the end.

"The only time I ever heard of serious floods in that area was at the time of Hurricane Edna in 1954, when Central st. near the Brook was flooded. But even Shawshen Square was likewise flooded at that time, and we have heard of no schemes to deal with a recurrence of that. It was a freak event and it may not happen again in a hundred years. The Park, the Playstead and the Chestnut st. areas are the spots most bothered by floods and there are other ways of controlling them there.

"To the east of the lower end of Morton st. there is an undeveloped area through which the Brook flows and a small dam placed there could hold back a good deal of the flood waters which bother the Chestnut st. residents. Also it would be possible to build a small levee between the Brook and the Chestnut st. houses, keeping the flood waters off those properties.

"When you come right down to it, what damage the Brook does at flood stage is not sufficient to warrant such a colossal expenditure of money. The Brook is bone dry most of the summer and it has had no serious floods since the hurricanes of 1954. In fact, Andover was largely indifferent to the Brook until Mr. Oliver Surette started what was called 'A one-man campaign' to get something done about it. And since then what he so well-meaningly started has grown and grown until it has grown beyond the bounds of reason.

"So let's hope the Andover voters will have the good sense to pass article 23 rescinding the original appropriation and then later we can look around for a cheaper and more sensible solution to the problem.

"And the million-dollar pipe project can go down in Andover history for what it really is - nothing but a colossal pipe dream."

Vesper Service At Free Church

REV. FREDERICK M. MEEK

The Lenten Vesper services at Free Christian Church begin Sunday evening, at 8:15 p.m.

The Rev. Frederick M. Meek, D.D., LL.D., pastor of the Old South Church in Boston, will be the speaker at this and the second of the series the following week.

Music will be under the direction of Donald Amy. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

School Board Awaits Verdict

The School Committee decided to put off its organizational activities until after a recount of votes in the School Committee contest.

Meeting Tuesday night, the Committee, with new member Vincent P. Davey and Mrs. Reta Buchan, whom he defeated by seven votes in attendance, followed the advice of senior member William A. Doherty.

He suggested an informal session, with the present officers continuing through town meeting. Thus Dr. Milton J. Meyers remains as chairman, and Supt. Edward I. Erickson as secretary.

The next meeting, Tuesday, March 20, probably will find the Committee electing its officers for the year. By that time, it is surmised, the recount will have taken place and a final decision will be known.

Mr. Davey, whose upset win over Mrs. Buchan by the seven-vote margin Monday had given rise to speculation about the election of School Board officers, was sworn in by Town Clerk Irving O. Piper late Tuesday.

The State Election Division concurred in local rulings that Mr. Davey is a full-fledged member of the Board, regardless of any petitions for a recount. Should there be a reversal of the election figures, resulting in a victory for Mrs. Buchan, she would be sworn in at that time.

The Danvers game was the feature of the Boosters Day program Saturday. Played before a large and enthusiastic crowd, the game wound up with an 8-2 score. Greg Gurry led the attack, scoring five goals, while Paul Perocchi, Paul Heubeck and Skip Freeman scored the other goals. St. Clair and Cottrell scored for Danvers.

The Concord, N.H., game was a rout, ending in a 9-0 score. Robbie Cole, Joe Morrissey and Ray Lavin scored twice, while Bob Robichaud, Bill Clift and Greg Gurry scored once.

The local record is now 17-9-2. The next game is Saturday, at 7:30 a.m. at the Phillips Academy rink, against Marblehead.

Any member of the Andover Garden Club interested in joining, should get in touch with Mrs. Hill.

Three Residents Were Honored

Three Andoverites, B. Allen Rowland, last fall's United Fund Campaign chairman, Winthrop Newcomb, outgoing president, and Alexander M. Wilson, outgoing budget committee chairman, were given awards at the eighth annual United Fund dinner held Monday evening.

Under Mr. Rowland's direction the Campaign achieved a total of $557,191, surpassing the campaign goal by over $16,000. Mr. Newcomb was highly commended for the efficient and effective administration of the United Fund during the past year under his direction as president.

Mr. Wilson has served on the United Fund Budget Committee for the past five years and through his 32-man committee was responsible for the allocation of the Campaign Funds to meet the health welfare and character building needs of the community.

The three Andover Member Agencies, the Andover Red Cross, Andover Visiting Nurses and Andover Youth Center - participated in the evening's activities.
